

Although I am a Christian, I fully acknowledge that in this country we have a wide diversity of viewpoints and beliefs. And one way in which these diverse viewpoints are allowed a free and legal forum is through LPFM.

Therefore, I fully support LPFM and oppose any media corporation, religious or secular, who would rob a community the opportunity of having its voice heard by installing translator stations and using up the limited number of FM channels available for its own enrichment or to impose some personal agenda on a nationwide scale.
